

Chairman Powell and Members of the F.C.C.

Although I am not in favor of regulation as a common practice, I don't believe those serving the public can also operate fairly in the interest of the public. Further deregulation is not in the best interest of the values that make America great.

I believe the Federal Communication Commission was founded to prevent monopolies from controlling the news and limiting the views.

Respectfully,

Janet Moore